

Goodwill Industries of Northwest North Carolina Business Advisory Councils

CONNECT | COLLABORATE | IMPACT

Goodwill's Business Advisory Council (BAC) members provide advice and counsel to Goodwill staff, educate others on Goodwill's mission and services, and maintain a network for the successful employment of program graduates.

There are currently six Councils with hundreds of members representing for-profit companies, government agencies, and nonprofit organizations across a broad range of industries. Councils meet monthly, either virtually or in-person, to share resources, offer expertise, discuss market trends, and inform services to meet the needs of our communities.

Goodwill's Business Advisory Councils play a critical role in the tracking of labor market trends and the continual development of Goodwill's programs to address the changing needs of communities across northwest North Carolina.

BAC GROWTH

Goodwill Industries of Northwest North Carolina organized its first Business Advisory Council in 1980. Today, Goodwill receives advice and support from six Business Advisory Councils with hundreds of members across the region. BAC members play critical roles in making Goodwill's mission possible. Councils are based in Buncombe, Catawba, Davidson, Forsyth, Iredell, and Rowan Counties. Virtual BAC meetings are offered via Zoom web conferencing and are available for anyone wishing to engage with other community representatives to collaborate, network, and address issues facing our region.

A REWARDING EXPERIENCE

The most rewarding benefit of serving as a member of Goodwill's Business Advisory Councils is having the opportunity to impact people's lives in ways that help them become more self-sufficient. Other benefits include:

- Networking with community leaders and professionals
- Opportunity to showcase your business to potential customers, partners, and job applicants
- Spotlighting your company by hosting a Council meeting
- Job fairs and screening of applicants at no cost
- Participation in events such as Goodwill's annual golf tournament, business panels, and recognition events
- Access to skilled job seekers who are trained and eager to change their lives through the power of work
- Opportunity to serve and give back to your community

HEAR FROM BAC MEMBERS

For the last eight years, I have tried hard not to miss a BAC meeting. Not only have I learned a great deal about Goodwill, I continue to learn about the needs of many businesses in our community. It has also proven to be a good way to network with others and learn about their best practices.

~ Allan Younger, Forsyth Tech Small Business Center

BAC meetings have always been a fun way to network while learning about our community. When we went virtual in 2020, the audience not only grew, but we also dug deep into relevant issues, sparking great conversation and authentic connection. The BAC isn't just about business; it's about collaboration and partnership to make our community a better place for all.

~ Susy Chandler, Lenoir-Rhyne University
